

Permaculture Academy partnership with Kumi, Teso, Uganda

To Sector39

Thanks for the great work you are doing, thanks again for bringing this great permaculture to Uganda. I am a journalist by profession, and I started a primary school when I was in my senior six vacation in 2013.

Deborah Aluka is a graduate from the S39PDC Kumi September 2020

Last year I met Deborah who introduced me to permaculture. This great agriculture made me to form a parent association made of different groups parents welcomed the idea. I called Deborah to train these groups shockingly, most of my parents are now doing well something that has made the school popular now as a permaculture training centre.

We did the some to pupils as well, we formed young farmers club for permaculture, and they also started doing well and some of them have taken it to their homes including teachers.

I am now seeing permaculture as a great thing in my life.

I also request you to help me also get this course and a certificate so that I also become a great teacher of permaculture in Uganda, East Africa and Africa at large.
Thanks

I am Julius Ojula journalist and a director of a small nursery and primary school called Vienna vision school that is seriously becoming a permaculture training centre.
Thanks again and again Steve.

Those are our pupils Steve that we want to develop with permaculture in them.
Steve I need your help, for me to help rescue Ugandan in poverty using permaculture
I am sure it will.
