

Case Study Lilian, Homa Bay Kenya

Lilian has been a regular volunteer and trainee at PermoAfrica. She has gained the skills and confidence to apply for a degree.

“She is going to study her degree on Environmental study and community development” Paul Ogola, PermoAfrica centre Director.

“ I am really proud of her achievements and now she will be our first graduate to progress to formal studies, but we need to raise $600 for her registration for the first semester. See below how she is teaching young kids in our community Permaculture project center.”
